

HarperCollinsChildren'sBooks
presents

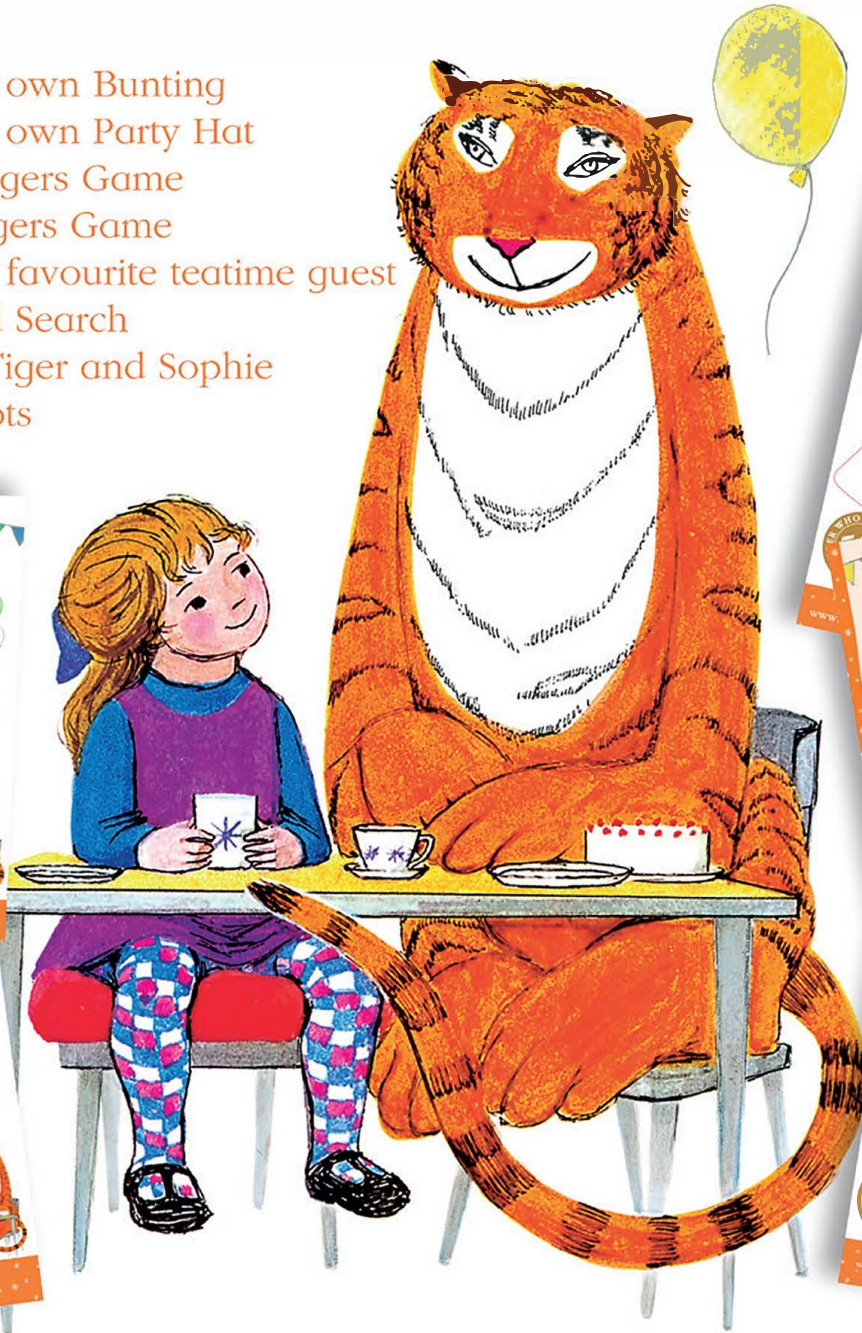

The Magic Begins at Teatime

Downloadable Tea Party!

Including:

- Make your own Bunting
- Make your own Party Hat
- Sleeping Tigers Game
- Roaring Tigers Game
- Draw your favourite teatime guest
- Tiger Word Search
- Colour in Tiger and Sophie
- Join the Dots

Celebrating 100 years since the birth of Judith Kerr

HarperCollinsChildren'sBooks
presents

Tiger Word Search

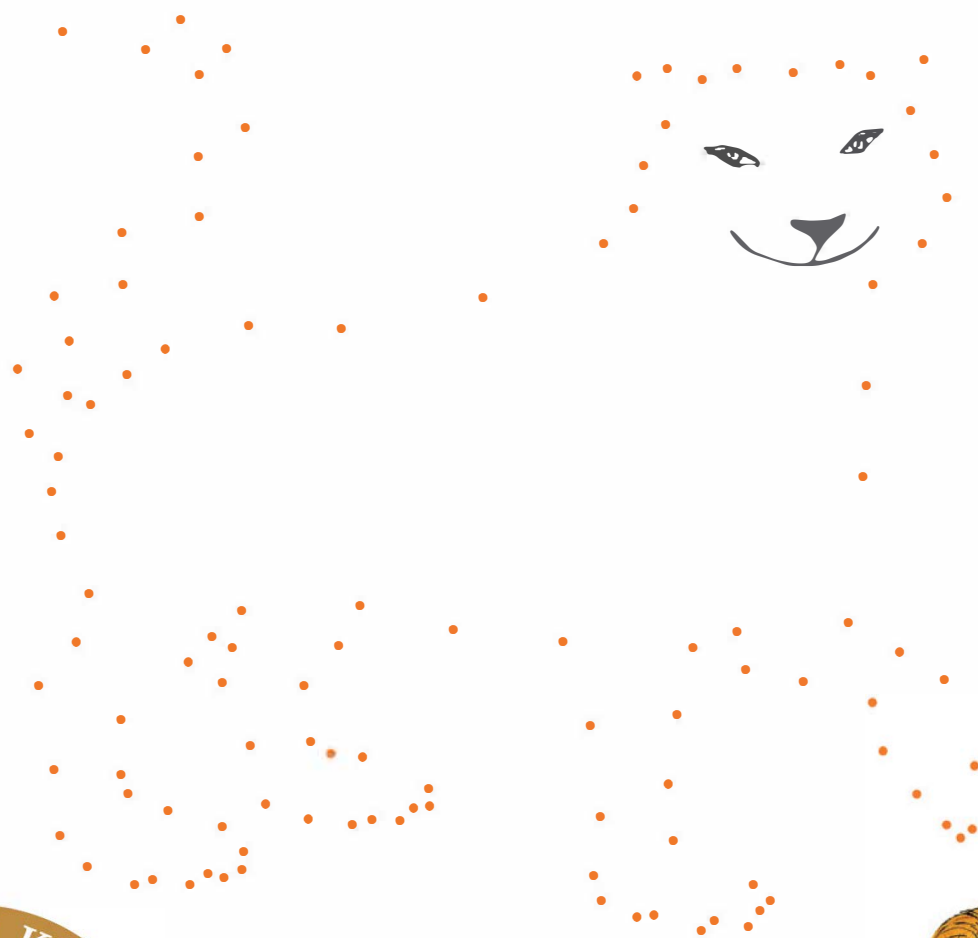

Tea, Tiger, Sophie,
Mummy, Daddy,
Buns, Sandwiches

HarperCollinsChildren'sBooks
presents

Join The Dots to Find The Tiger

HarperCollinsChildren'sBooks
presents

Who Would You Most Like to Visit You at Teatime?

Have you ever wanted your favourite animal to ring the doorbell?

Is there a person you've always wanted to meet,
or would your favourite visitor just be your best friend?
Draw your favourite teatime guest in the space below.

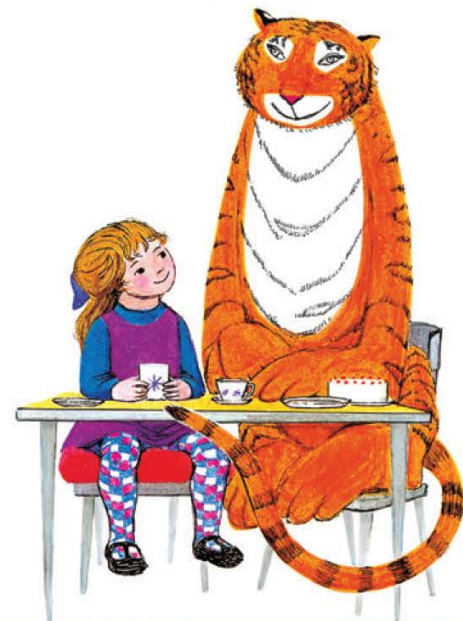

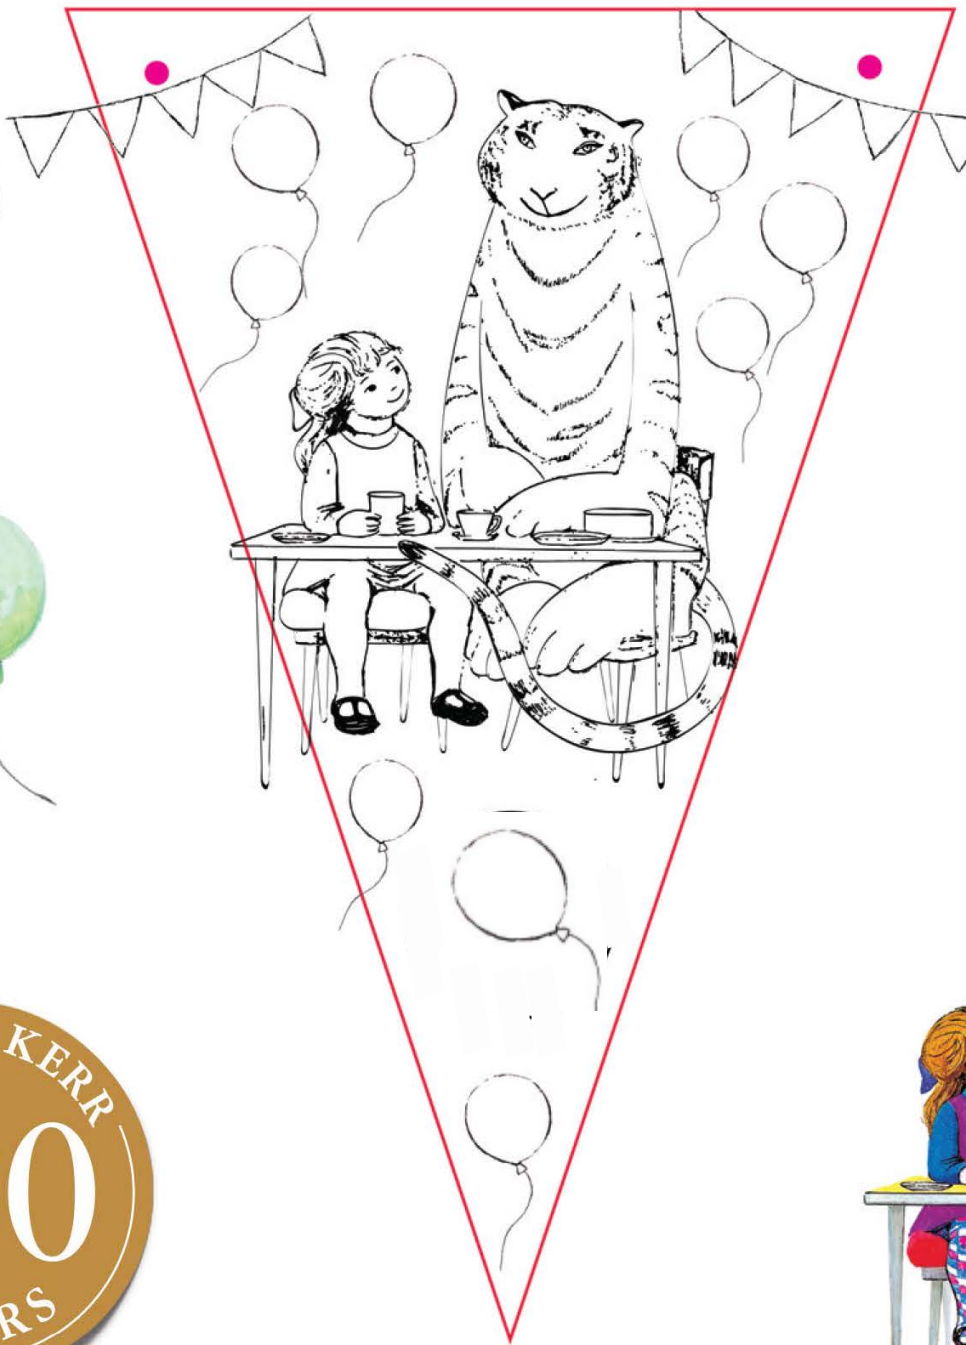

HarperCollinsChildren'sBooks
presents

Colour in Tiger and Sophie

HarperCollinsChildren'sBooks
presents

Make Your Own Bunting

HarperCollinsChildren'sBooks
presents

Make Your Own Party Hat

The Magic Begins at Teatime!

Sleeping Tigers

How still can you stay?

You will need:

- 🐾 One person to be the judge
- 🐾 Space to lie in

How to Play:

- 1 For this game, all the players have to lie very still on the floor.
- 2 The judge walks about, watching everyone very carefully. Anyone who giggles, twitches or wriggles is out!
- 3 The last person lying still is the winner.

Sophie's Tip
The judge can't touch anyone while walking around, but they can make them laugh any other way!

Roaring Tigers

Time to be loud and run around!

You will need:

- 🐾 A blindfold - an old scarf or tie will work
- 🐾 Space to run

How to Play:

- 1 One person is 'it', and wears a blindfold so they cannot see anything.
- 2 The person who is 'it' calls out, 'Where are the Tigers?', and the other players must answer with a loud ROAR. They can ask 'Where are the Tigers?' as many times as they like, and the other players must always roar back.
- 3 The person who is 'it' must listen to the roars and try to catch another player, who will then become 'it'.

ROAR!

ROAR!

Sophie's Tip
Make sure you
clear the floor
- remember the person who is 'it'
can't see.

